Overview settlement U.S. dollar holiday schedule

The Mastercard settlement U.S. dollar holiday schedule is based on the U.S. holidays observed by the New York Branch Federal Reserve are described in this section.

Settlement holidays

Mastercard Global Settlement Services supports regional settlement service cutoffs on most U.S. Federal Reserve holidays.

This feature offers customers the ability to settle cross-border and intracurrency activity based on the holiday schedule of their local settlement bank, with the exception of 1 January and 25 December when no settlement cutoffs are performed.

Settlement bank advisements will be distributed to customers according to the holiday schedule provided by the local settlement bank or local monetary authority.

Mastercard will not move monies in a Regional Settlement Service on days when the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank is closed. As a general rule, when U.S. Federal Reserve holidays occur on a Saturday, Federal Reserve banks and branches will be open the preceding Friday. When U.S. Federal Reserve holidays occur on a Sunday, all Federal Reserve offices will be closed the following Monday. See New York Branch Federal Reserve Bank Holidays for specific holiday dates.

Overview

Detailed MCC information is organized in several ways.

- Acceptor business code (MCC) criteria
- Required use of MCCs, transaction category codes, and acceptor business programs
- Added and changed MCCs
- MCCs in numeric, alphabetic, and transaction category code order
- Abbreviated airline names to be used in the Merchant Description in the IPM First PresentMULTIDRAGment/1240 message
- Acceptor business programs and associated MCCs

Acceptor business code (MCC) criteria

Mastercard uses various criteria for establishing new acceptor business codes (MCC).

Before customers request new MCCs, they should review this practice to determine whether a merchant qualifies for a new MCC.

For industry MCCs, please refer to the ISO 18245 standard for the requirements.

Mastercard uses the following criteria to establish new generic MCCs:

- Projected annual bankcard volume for the MCC must equal at least USD 10 million, and the new merchant type must be distinct and separate from other industries; or
- Industry transaction characteristics require that the transactions must be identified specifically in the authorization and clearing systems to maximize Mastercard opportunities (for example, Payment Transactions).

Mastercard uses the following criteria to establish new travel and entertainment industry MCCs:

- Projected annual bankcard volume for the MCC must equal at least USD 1 million; and
- The merchant must be listed in an internationally recognized trade directory, for example, the Official Airline Guide; and
- If the merchant is an airline, the merchant must have 10 or more aircraft in the fleet, or
- If the merchant is a car rental company, the merchant must have 500 or more vehicles, or
- If the merchant is a hotel, the merchant must have in place a preferred usage program for which cardholders must register, or must have five or more properties or a single property with 500 or more rooms. If the merchant has multiple properties, then each property must operate under the same name.

Note that Mastercard grants new MCCs at its sole discretion even if the merchant meets the above stated criteria.

NOTE: To add, change, or delete an MCC, complete the Acceptor Business Code (MCC) Request Form (Form 380) available on Mastercard Connect® by selecting Help > Forms.

Required use of MCCs

MCCs are required in all authorization and clearing messages initiated at a point-of-interaction location. The MCCs help to accurately reflect the merchant's primary business and facilitate risk management.

Acquirers must provide a valid and accurate MCC recognized by Mastercard in Data Element (DE) 26 (Acceptor Business Code [MCC]) of the IPM First Presentment/1240 message. An accurate MCC is defined as a valid MCC that most reasonably and fairly describes the merchant's primary business. IPM First Presentment/1240 messages submitted with an invalid MCC will be rejected, and IPM error message 0531, "DE26 ACCEPTOR BUSINESS CODE (MCC) INVALID OR OBSOLETE," will appear.

Transactions with MCCs from 3000 through 3350 must supply an abbreviated airline name.

Transaction Category Codes

Transaction Category Codes (TCCs) are required in Mastercard authorization messages and are used during Stand-In processing.

Mastercard uses the TCC to determine the transaction currency amount that Mastercard will authorize on behalf of the issuer. The description of each MCC includes the TCCs that are valid for that MCC. Only a valid combination of MCC and TCC may be used in a transaction.

Definitions: Transaction Category Codes and types of transactions

Each of the Transaction Category Code types and the transactions that are applicable to them are organized in the TCC and corresponding transaction type table.

TCC and corresponding transaction type

| TCC | Transaction Type  |
|-----|---|
| A   | Automobile/Vehicle Rental This TCC applies to the rental of an automobile, bus, truck, or motor home, but does not apply to the rental of a bicycle, motorbike, trailer, or other vehicle.   |
| C   | Manual Cash Disbursement This TCC applies to a transaction in which the cardholder receives cash or travelers' cheques at a customer financial institution, or cash or travelers' cheques at the location of a qualified and approved agent of a customer financial institution. |
| F   | Restaurant This TCC applies to transactions processed by a restaurant, including those located in a hospital, hotel, cruise ship, or similar location.   |

| TCC | Transaction Type  |
|-----|---|
| H   | Hotel/Motel This TCC applies only to transactions involving the provision of sleeping or meeting room accommodations, or both. This TCC also may include goods and services that are included on a bill for these accommodations by a hotel, motel, or inn, but not by any boarding house or lodging house providing services primarily for permanent guests, and not by a trailer or camping park. This TCC does not apply to any apparel store, florist, gift shop, or restaurant transaction in a hotel, motel, or inn that is not posted to a bill that includes charges for the providing of sleeping or meeting room accommodations. In the case of cruise ships sailing in any waters, this TCC applies only to accumulated incidental charges that were incurred aboard ship and are posted to an account with the shipping company that is payable upon disembarkation. This includes transactions originating at merchant locations aboard the ship, for example, at an apparel store, gift shop, or florist. |
| O   | College/School Expense This TCC applies only to transactions involving charges for tuition or room and board by an institution that is a university, college, junior college, or preparatory school. The institution must be accredited by the regional or other appropriate accrediting authority. It must be conducting a full-time academic program. The transaction also may include other college/school expenses and charges, such as books, insurance, and athletic fees. This TCC does not apply to charges by a trade school, or any establishment for the teaching of a particular skill or group of skills, such as a school of design, beauticians' school, fencing school, or computer programming school.  |
| O   | Hospital This TCC applies only to transactions involving a charge for an overnight bed occupancy by a patient. The transaction may include, in addition to the overnight bed occupancy charge by a patient, related goods and services. This TCC does not apply to a separate bill for outpatient service, or any florist, gift shop, or restaurant transaction in a hospital that is not posted to a hospital bill that includes a patient's overnight bed occupancy charges. A hospital is an institution for the care or treatment of persons who are sick, injured, aged, infirm, or young, and it may be an asylum, a sanitarium, or a rest home.  |
| P   | Payment Transaction This TCC applies to Payment Transactions including Mastercard Gaming Payment Transactions and Mastercard MoneySend Payment Transactions (including but not limited to Mastercard MoneySend Fast Refund Payment Transactions conducted for purchase returns). A Payment Transaction is a transaction that transfers funds to a cardholder account. A Payment Transaction must be authorized by the issuer.   |
| R   | All Other Merchants/U.S. Post Exchange This TCC applies to those transactions taking place at a retail store or U.S. Post Exchange.   |

| TCC    | Transaction Type  |
|--------|---|
| R or U | Cardholder-Activated Terminal (CAT Level 1, 2, 3, and 4) This TCC applies to a cardholder-activated magnetic stripe-reading terminal (usually unattended) that dispenses a product or provides a service. The terminal is either an Automated Dispensing Machine/Level 1, Self-Service Terminal/Level 2, Limited Amount Terminal/Level 3, or In-Flight Commerce Terminal/Level 4 in accordance with Mastercard standards. For more details, refer to Appendix D of the Transaction Processing Rules manual.   |
| T      | All Other Non-Face-to-Face Transactions This TCC applies to non-face-to-face transactions, including but not limited to recurring transactions, mail order/telephone order transactions, electronic and mobile commerce transactions, and transponder transactions. Recurring or preauthorized transactions result from a specific authorization given to the merchant where the cardholder has agreed to periodic billings submitted by the merchant. Mail order/telephone order, electronic and mobile commerce, and transponder transactions result from a cardholder authorizing a sale to be charged to his or her account via a non-face-to-face method. |
| U      | Unique Transactions This TCC applies only to transactions identified with one of the following acceptor business codes: 4829, 6050, 6051, 7995, 7801, or 7802. The TCC of "U" must be used in combination with any of these acceptor business codes, regardless of transaction environment (with the sole exception of Gaming Payment Transactions, which use a TCC of "P").   |
| X      | Airline This TCC applies to a passenger airline merchant or its authorized agent that sells tickets on behalf of the airlines.   |
| X      | Railroad This TCC applies to a passenger railroad merchant or its authorized agent that sells tickets on behalf of the railroads.  |
| X      | Travel Agency/Transportation This TCC applies to transactions involving charges for other common carrier passenger transportation. The transaction, in addition to these charges, may include charges that are incidental to scheduled common carrier passenger transportation.  |
| Z      | Automated Cash Disbursement This TCC applies to a transaction in which the cardholder receives cash at an ATM.   |

Acceptor business (AB) programs and descriptions

Each business code (MCC) is associated to a particular industry and, therefore, belongs to one, and only one, industry AB program, listed in the industry acceptor business (AB) programs table.
